

MAXIMIZING ROI IN FOOD LOGISTICS

In food logistics, every minute counts. Optimizing operations, cutting costs and boosting efficiency can be the difference between meeting customer expectations and falling behind.

HERE'S WHY:

50%

Freight transport makes up 50% of logistics expenses in food distribution

20-30%

Streamlining fleet operations can reduce costs by 20-30%

WHAT CAN COMPANIES DO AND WHERE TO START?

Did you know?

1 Increase efficiency with digital keys

Switch to digital keys for instant vehicle access. No more misplaced keys or manual handovers, saving time and reducing operational delays.

DIGITAL KEYS

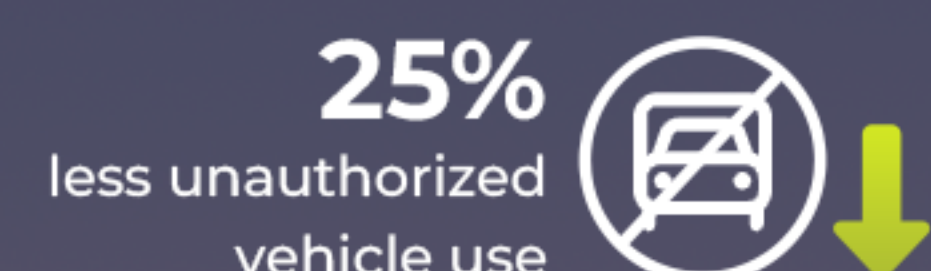

Companies using digital keys experience up to 99.95% cloud uptime and a 15% reduction in downtime

2 Improve visibility with driver access control

Track and control vehicle access by ensuring only authorized drivers can operate your fleet. Revoke access remotely, prevent unauthorized use and eliminate the risks of lost or shared keys.

DIGITAL VEHICLE ACCESS SYSTEMS

Digital vehicle access systems can reduce unauthorized vehicle use by up to 25%

3 Enhance compliance with ELD verification

By verifying ELD logins in real-time, fleets can avoid costly fines and ensure compliance with government regulations, all while keeping drivers accountable for their hours of service.

REAL-TIME ELD VERIFICATION

Real-time ELD verification helps improve compliance rates by up to 15-20%

4 Improve safety by verifying pre-trip inspections

Verification of pre-trip inspections guarantees that vehicles are road-ready and compliant with safety regulations before every trip, reducing human error and speeding up vehicle availability.

PRE-TRIP INSPECTIONS

Verifying pre-trip inspections can reduce mechanical failures by up to 30%

5 Automate trailer access

Automating trailer access minimizes downtime and ensures the correct trailer is attached, reducing errors and speeding up operations.

AUTOMATED TRAILER MATCHING

Automated trailer matching reduces costly mismatches by up to 30%
